ALMA MATER

"ALL HAIL TO THEE"

All hail to thee, dear Compton High,
Our Alma Mater true,
May all thy sons, where ere they be,
Give thee all honor due.
The years may come, the years may go,
But still we'll loyal be,
And when our high school days are o'er,
Be faithful unto thee.

EL COMPANILE . . . MEANS

Many students have asked, "What does El Companile mean?" It isn't a name that the yearbook staff pulled from the clear blue sky; it is a combination of letters with a meaning for each. We must return to the eighteenth century to understand the background of this name. Our city was first settled by a family of English descent, known as the Compton family. Since our national language is English, we took the first four letters of this family's name as the beginning of our yearbook's name—C O M P. El, or "the" in Spanish, gives recognition to the many Spanish speaking people who reside in our community. The remainder of our title — ANILE — was taken from the ancient word Campanile, meaning bell tower. We Tarbabes are truly proud of the "Chimes" bell tower on our campus. Therefore, "El Companile" combines the history of old Compton, the music of the Spanish language and the people who speak it, and our respect and love for our bell tower and chimes.

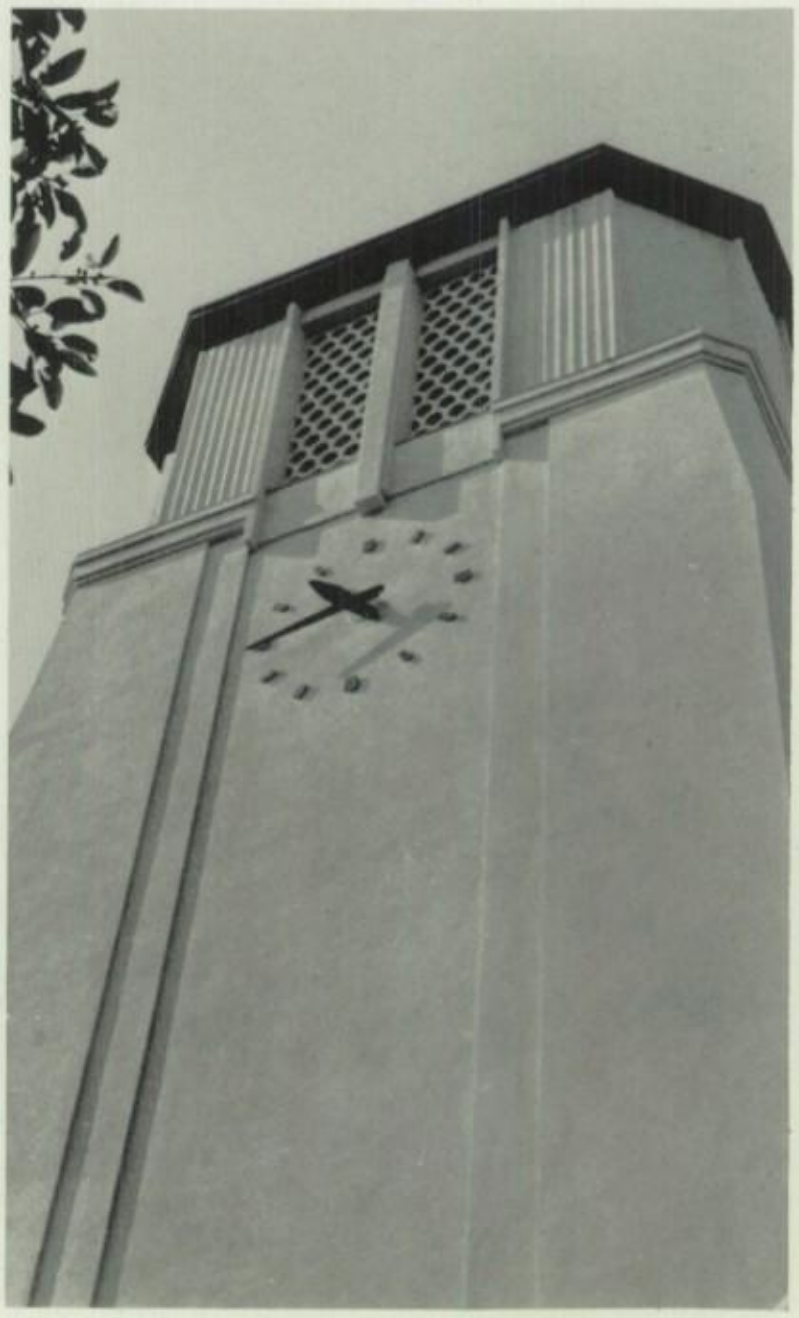
SCHOOL

Compton's new gymnasium was dedicated in October, 1961. At the cost of about $400,000, the gym has 15,000 sq. ft. of usable area including basketball courts, volleyball and badminton courts and well-equipped gymnastic areas.

Pictured above are the journalism and drafting rooms, business and science buildings. They occupy a small portion of our 38 acre campus, and are located on Oleander Street.

The Chimes Tower, a symbol of our school, is a well known landmark.



OF CHAMPIONS

Senior Square plays a large part in our tradition here at Compton High School. It is something that sophomores dream of, juniors look forward to, and seniors enjoy all year. Senior Square was a gift of the Senior class of 1956; the classes of 1957 and 1958 also added to the beauty of it. The many Senior Coffins make the square sacred. Each graduating class leaves mementos from their year, such as a copy of El Companile, Senior class pictures and an issue of each Chimes newspaper of that year.

FOREWORD

"COMPTON—THEN AND NOW" seemed to be an appropriate theme on which to build our 1964 El Companile. The staff worked through the year gathering pictures and information which they felt would bring you closer to your school as it was in the beginning of its growth. This theme expresses the achievement of our school in the past and in the present. It also peeks into the history of Compton High School and tells some of the changes which have taken place.

The beginning of Compton Union High School dates back to 1896 when plans were first made to organize a secondary school in this district. The original high school building was erected, and Bert O. Kinney was appointed principal. A class of five graduated that year.

Because of the constantly increasing number of students, the school had to be enlarged. In 1926 the first administration building was erected. Then on March 10, 1933, an earthquake struck destroying many of the school buildings and damaging others. After years of reconstruction, our campus developed the core around which the present buildings are constructed.

In 1953 the junior college separated from the high school and moved to its present location. In the fall of that year Compton Senior High School opened its doors for the first time as a three-year high school on this campus with Doris T. Westcott as principal. For the past two years Edward C. Moore has been Compton High School's principal.

Through the knowledge of the past, that this book provides, we will find the key to greater understanding of the present. It is also from this key that we will find the basis for a secure future.

HAMPTON HIGH SCHOOL

Will L. Frew, pictured above, who became the fourth principal of Compton High School on July 12, 1902, was greatly respected by all his associates. He held this position until 1910. Mr. Frew was a graduate of the Bryant Normal University and the Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Hail, hail, the gang's all here! Pictured on the right are graduates of Compton Senior High school who are now employed on the Compton campus. Howard Brown, third from left, is holding a 1927 banner, indicating the year he graduated. Alumni looking on are Don Verbeck, 1960; Edna Cutler, 1928; Edward Moore, 1938; Eva Miskinis, 1925; William Rollins, 1938; Kathryn Bowers, 1932; Paddy Caudillo, 1936.

The following is a partial list of prominent citizens of the city of Compton who have made notable contributions to our school over the years:

From 1908 to 1910, Frank L. Walton was a member of the Board of Trustees. Compton High School's library bears his name.

Fred Lueders, who began teaching in 1913, was dean of boys from 1921.

Oliver Scott Thompson is noted as the man for whom our large and well - appointed auditorium is named. In 1916 Mr. Thompson became a principal in the district and later was appointed district superintendent. In 1939 he was the recipient of an honorary doctor's degree from Lake Forest University, Chicago. H. J. Mayo, for whom our swimming pool is named, served on the board for 44 years.

William H. Ramsaur, elected to the Board of Trustees in 1918, became its president in 1924. Ramsaur Stadium, named for him, has been the site of national as well as local athletic events in Compton.

Our school has grown from a faculty of three, in 1901, to the present teaching staff of 81; the enrollment has grown from 40, in 1904, to a total of 2,000 in 1964.

From the beginning of our school's history, the administration has greatly affected the growth and progress of our school.

The graduates of 1916 are shown in their Sophomore year posed for a traditional yearbook picture, holding their class banner. The number of Sophomores that year totaled 83. In 1916 there were 18 faculty members, and the June student enrollment was 247. There were 38 members in the graduating class of 1916.

Compton Senior High School is indeed the "School of Champions." It has grown from a small academic secondary school into a comprehensive high school and is considered to be one of the most fully equipped in Los Angeles County. Through the years Compton High School has accumulated a wide variety of courses offered to both day and night students. College preparatory, commercial, home-making, industrial arts and fine arts are some of the departmental offerings on this campus. Commercial education, art and journalism were added in 1905; manual training courses, domestic science and mechanical arts, were first offered in 1909.

Each morning at 8:00, students who ride the school buses begin to arrive. First period classes commence at 8:30; the average class length of the six periods is 53 minutes. At 3:00, when the final bell rings, some students once again load onto buses, while others attend club meetings, go out for athletics or participate in other extra-curricular activities.

"The school's responsibility is to provide a diversity of offerings so that students with particular aptitudes, interests, and capabilities may be able to find a happy balance of work and recreation which will give meaning to high school days and direction to the years ahead. The school also has the responsibility of helping students develop high standards of moral and spiritual values and personal habits that are socially constructive."

Superintendent
1953-1961

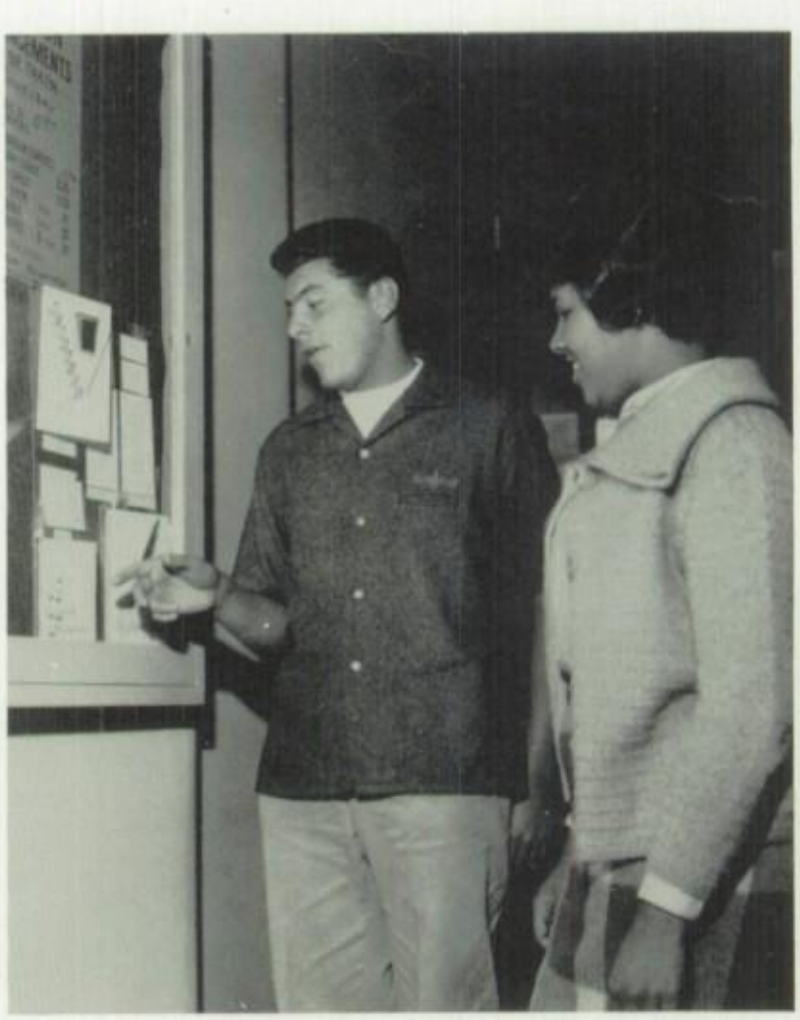
NOTABLES ON THE "BIG C" CAMPUS

Melba Henton was installed as the Spring Semester Girls' League president during the Girls' League Installation Tea at which time Diane Ford ended a successful first semester as president.

An unusual distinction was bestowed upon Mrs. Gertrude Suthard, teacher of English and history, when she was chosen as the recipient of the Belben Award for 1963-64. This recognition is given annually to one teacher in the Compton Union Secondary School District in acknowledgement of her superior classroom teaching. The award is given to teachers whose working relationship with students and teachers is outstanding.



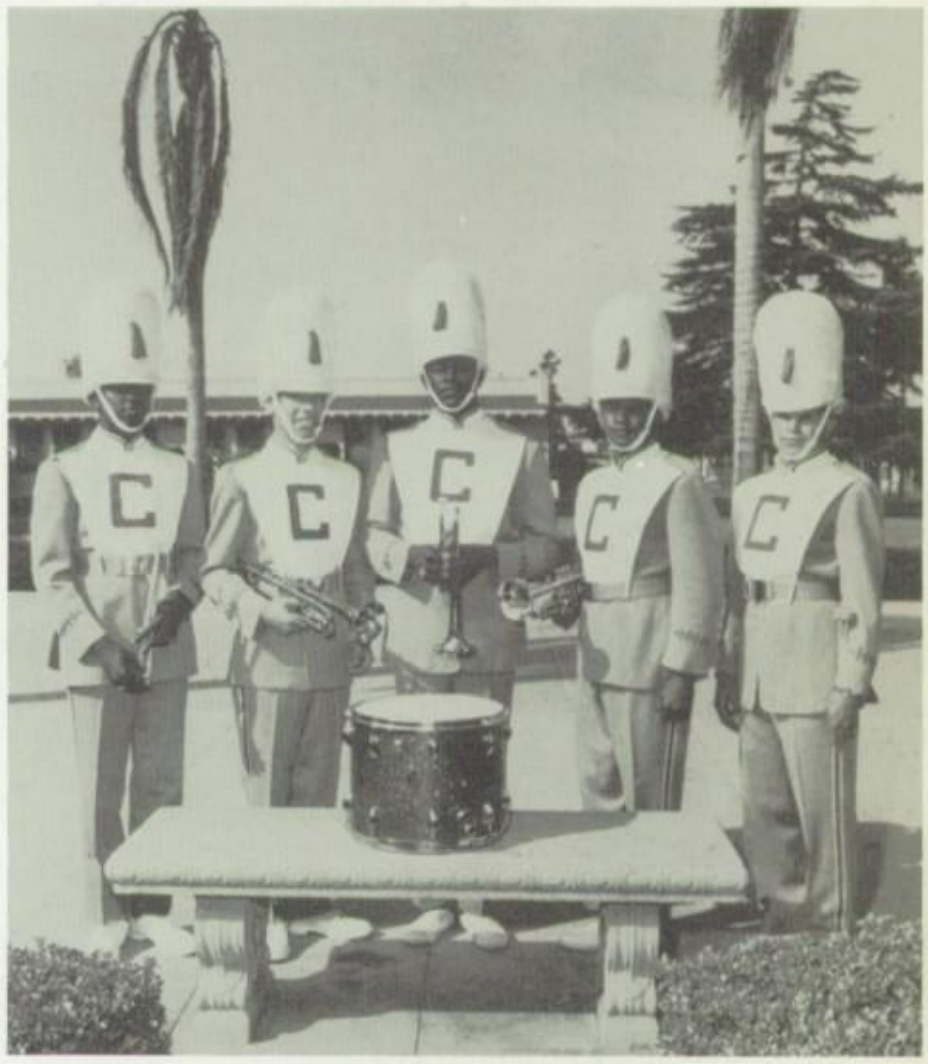
Barbara Norma and Frank Gomez were looking over the graduation announcement display in the administration building. Seniors ordered them in March.

Le Roi Jones, spring semester A.S.B. president, and Juanita Greene, spring semester Junior class president, are pictured raising the flag as they did every school morning of the second semester.

FLAG RAISERS

Preparing to fly the colors for the day was Beverly Baker and Mike Taylor, first semester officers. This is one of the many duties of the student body president and junior class president which must be performed each morning without fail.

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS



Every morning at 8:30 over the public address system, the "call to colors" is presented by Stanley Perkins, John Yvarra, Bobby Nicholson, Eric Payne, and Alvin Adams, members of the drum and bugle corps.

Always laughing, joking and showing their enthusiasm for having fun, Roberta Body (below) and George Clark (left), were voted as having THE BEST SENSE OF HUMOR by the Seniors of '64.

"Now and then" and always, Barbara Easley (below) and Louis Bell (bottom right), will have a warm and friendly smile for everyone. Because of this, they were voted as having THE BEST SMILE.

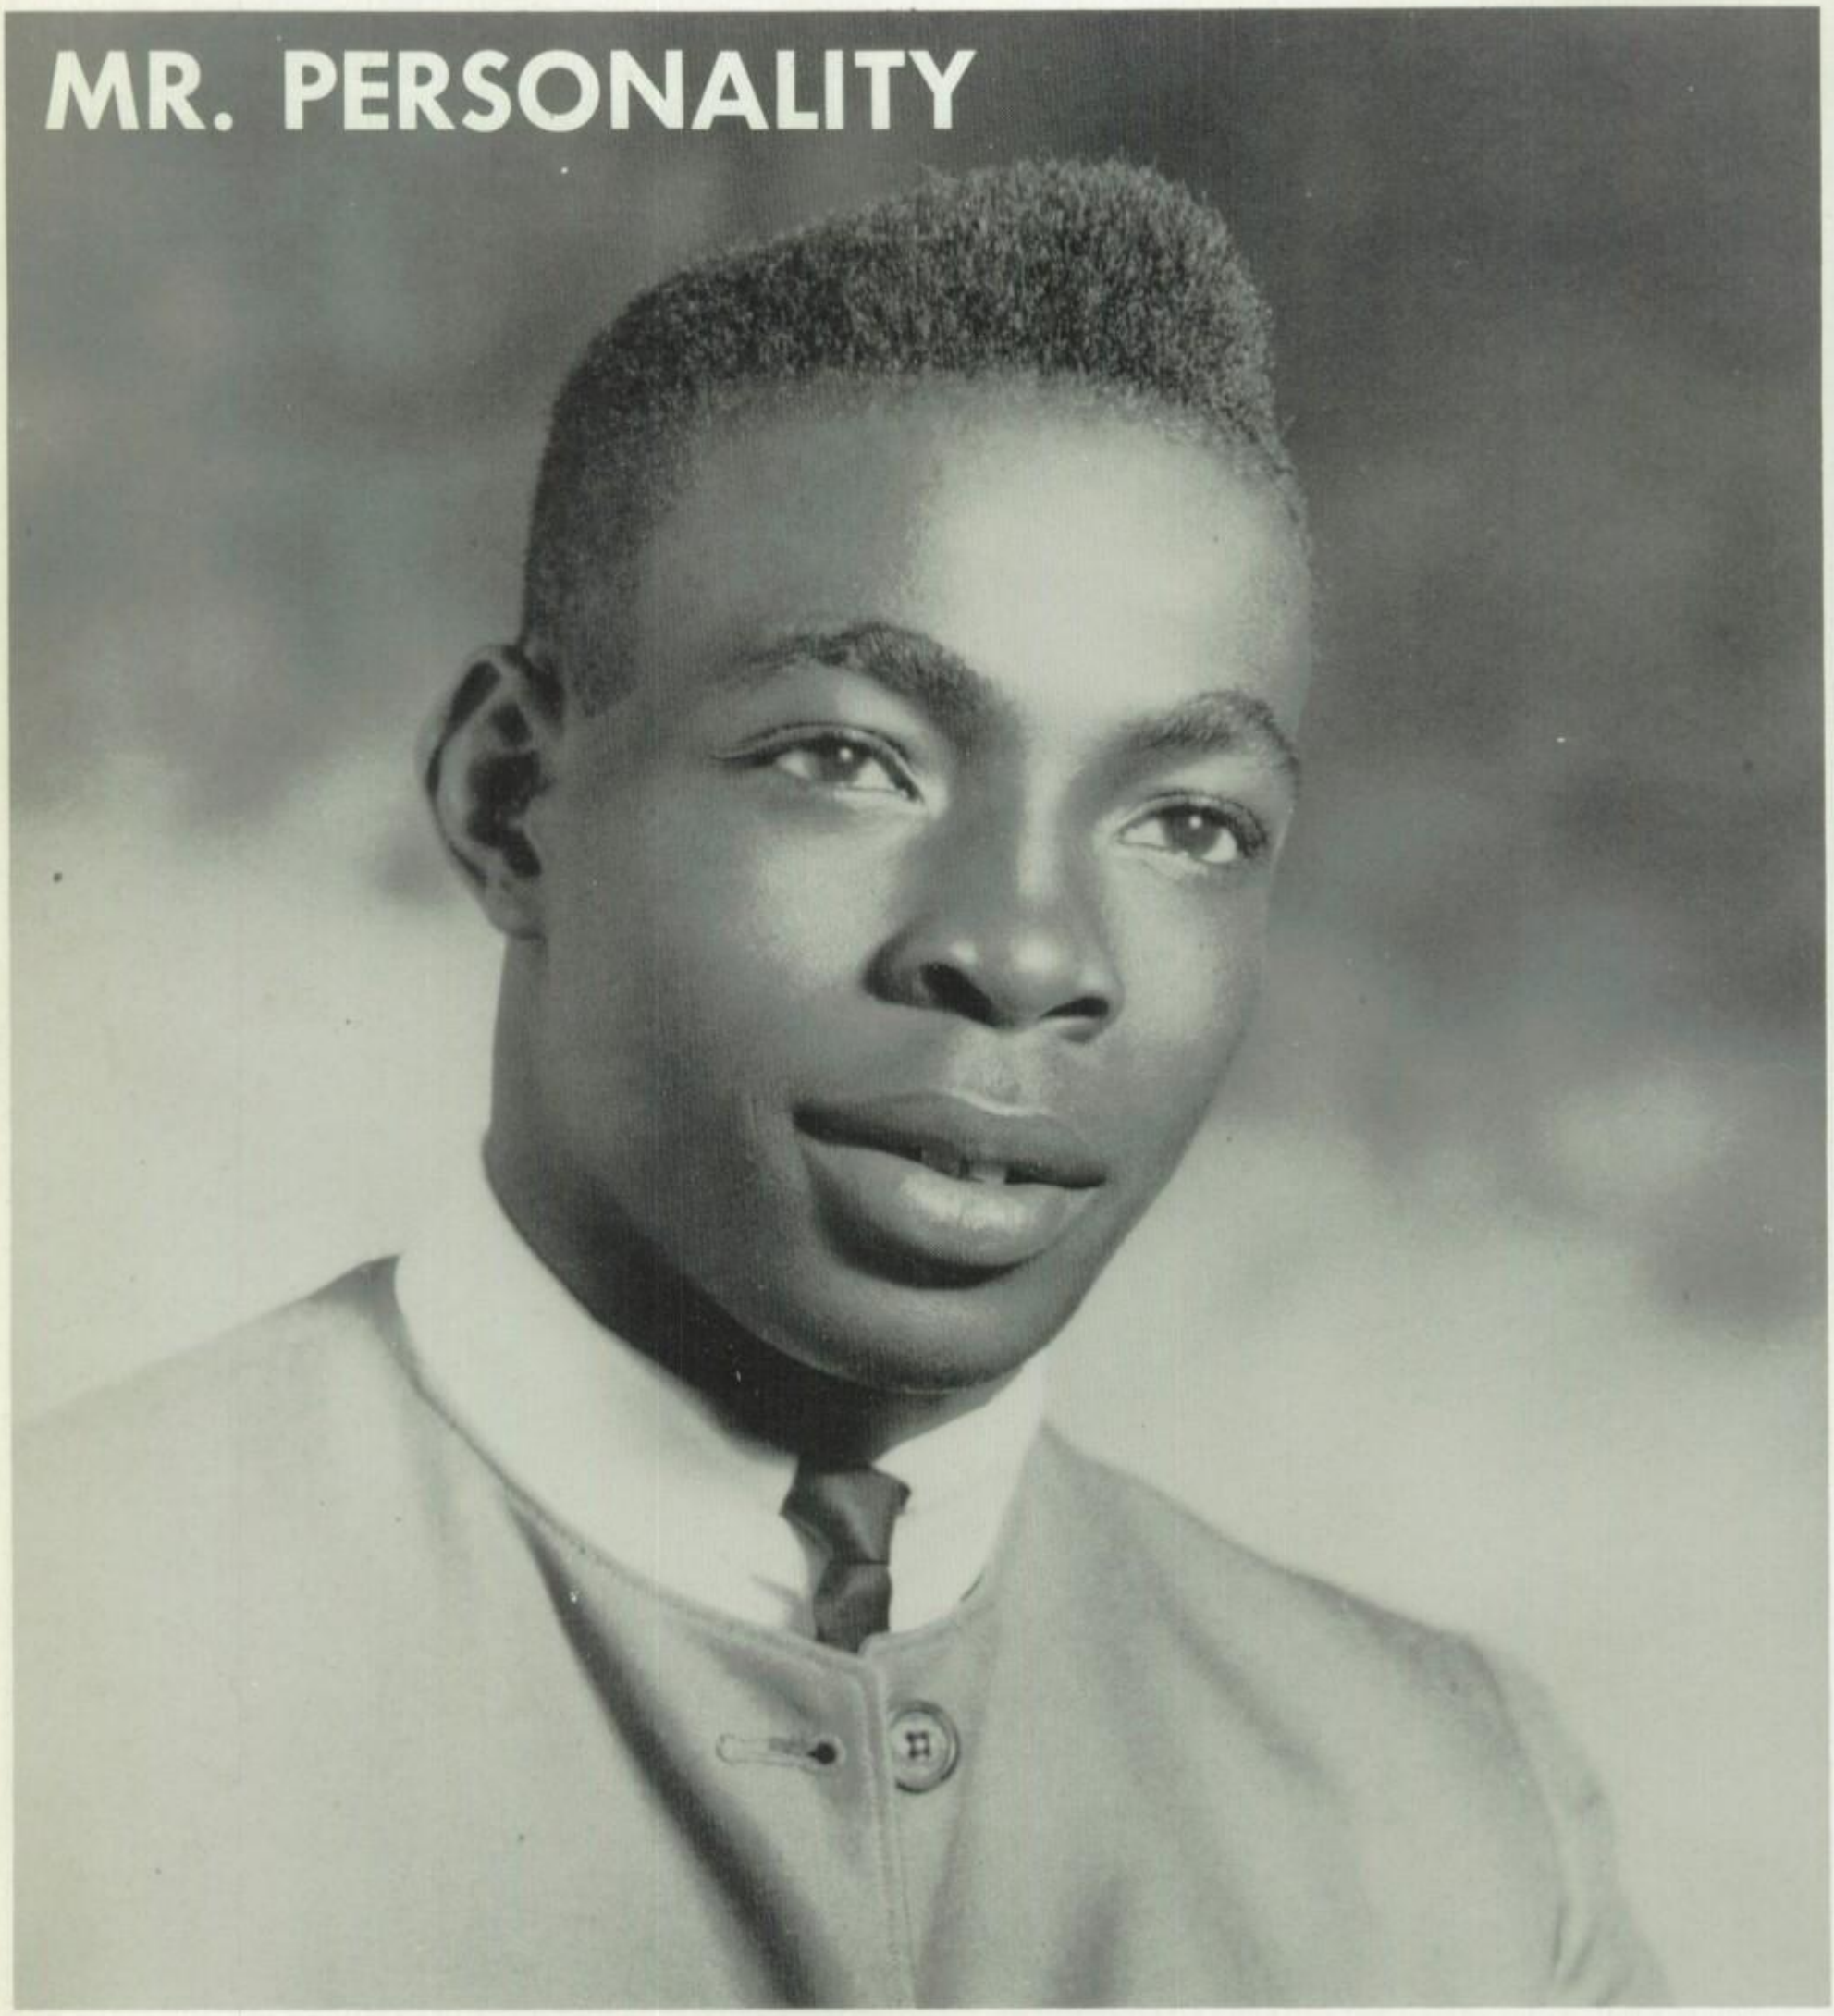
FAVORITES

By participating and showing their jubilant spirit in many of Compton's activities, Lena Cole (below) and LeRoi Jones (bottom right), earned the title of having THE BEST SCHOOL SPIRIT of '64.

Because of their genuine interest in school and their ability to get along with others, Casandria Harris (below) and Harvey Dilion (left) were chosen as THE MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED.

OF 1964

MR. PERSONALITY



Voted Mr. Personality by the class of '64 was Harvey Dillion. Besides having a wonderful personality, he was very active during his three years at Compton. During his sophomore and junior years he was president of the Lettermen's Club. As a Senior he was Commissioner of Public Relations. Barbara Easely was voted by the Senior class of 1964 as Miss Personality. She was very friendly, and the spirit and enthusiasm she displayed during her three years at Compton proved she was proud of being a "Big C" member. Barbara participated in many activities around the campus. She was Junior class treasurer, one of the Homecoming princesses, Senior class secretary, associated student body secretary, a three year member of A Cappella and a Chanteur. After graduation Barbara planned to attend El Camino College and major in business.

Holding the office of president is a very responsible job. Taking these responsibilities in hand was Eugene Jackson who served as Senior class president during the Fall semester. One of his most important projects was "Tot'n for Tots." The purpose was to raise money to buy Christmas gifts for children in El Rancho Hospital.

LEADERS OF

Ronald Minters was elected to the office of Vice-President for the Senior Class during the Spring semester. Some of his duties were to preside over the meetings in the absence of the President and to help with presidential duties.

Presiding over the Senior Class for the Spring semester was Roberta Body. One of her many duties for the semester was to complete the selection of the senior gift which be left to the school.

Taking notes, and reading the minutes for the Senior Class were just a few of the duties that secretary Glenda Proby performed. She was kept busy through the Spring semester by recording the detail of the year end activities.

Collecting and recording the funds for the Spring semester was treasurer, Devone Smith. His job was to keep an accurate account of all money received and spent by the Senior Class.

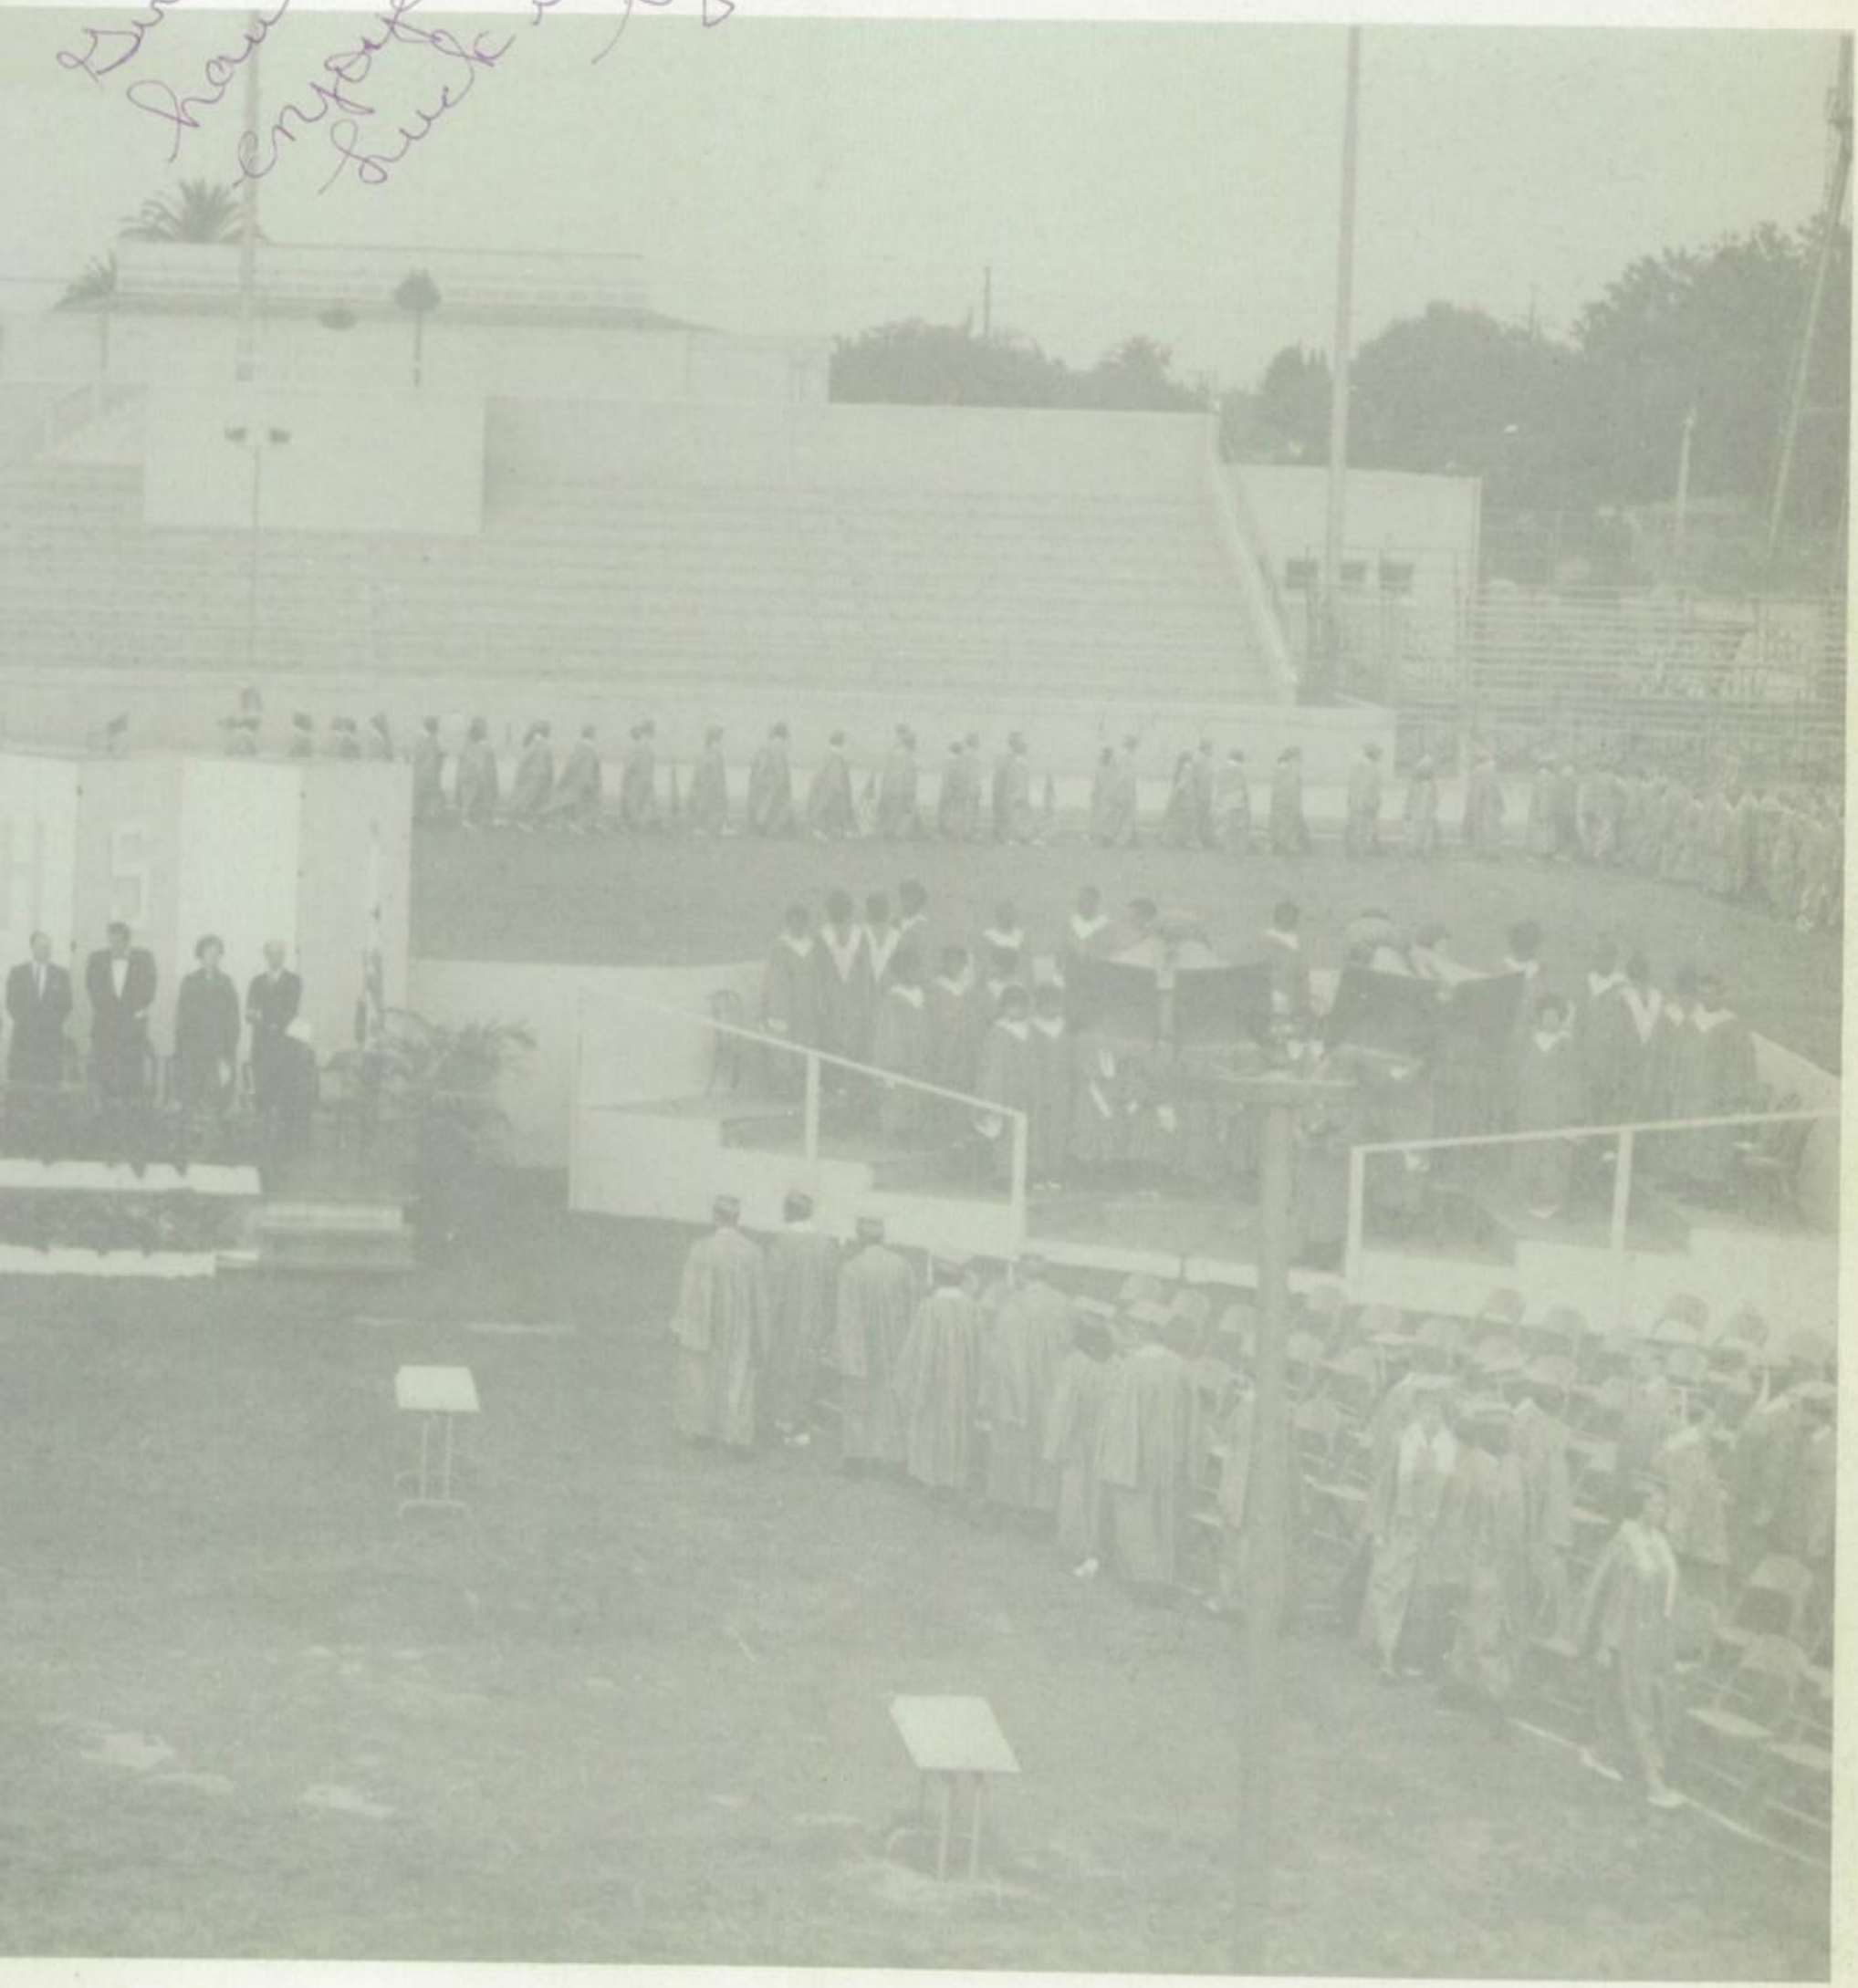
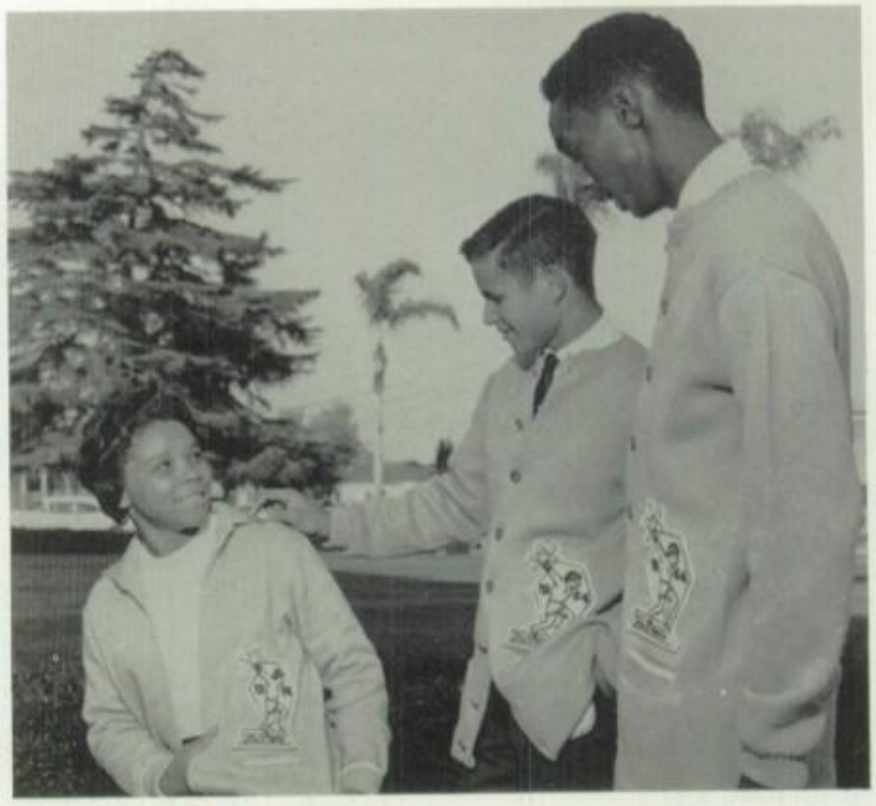
1964



Gloria White, visiting in the office of senior counselor Mr. William Barnes, was receiving advice in an area that commonly confronts seniors during their final year in high school—after-graduation plans. Counseling is offered to all students who are in need of such help.



Admiring their new class sweaters were Mary Allen, Alvin Adams, and Ronald Minters. Mary was proudly showing off the emblem of the class of 1964. The seniors adopted the name of "Les Vogues," meaning "Bold Ones," and chose turquoise with white trim around the collar and cuffs.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

Patricia Williams and Yvette Long, shown participating in "Tot'n for Tots", seemed to be over-loaded with books belonging to Jesse Alvarez and Ronald Pickens. December 2 and 3 were designated as the days for the annual project for the senior class. The purpose of this event was to buy toys for the children at Rancho Los Amigos Hospital. According to Patricia Keel, "It was a great success and great fun for everyone around the 'Big C' campus."

Having a good time splashing in the water and enjoying the California sun at the annual Fun Day for Seniors at Newport Dunes were Glenda Proby, Carol Greer, Roger Johnson, Regina Brown, Tony Estrada, and Moto Kubota.

THROUGHOUT THE YEAR

Taking time out to relax and talk over the good time they were having at the Junior-Senior Prom were Seniors, Toby Coles, Brenda Caldwell, and Mary Thomas.

Settling a dispute between Lena Cole, "Senior Foxes," and Miss Phyllis Winger, "Faculty Chicks," was "Official" Bill Barnes. This game was sponsored by the Scribes' Club to raise money for the March of Dimes.

The band, in 1929, under the direction of A. J. Belprez, were posed for a traditional Spectrum yearbook photo wearing their striped blazer jackets and white pants.

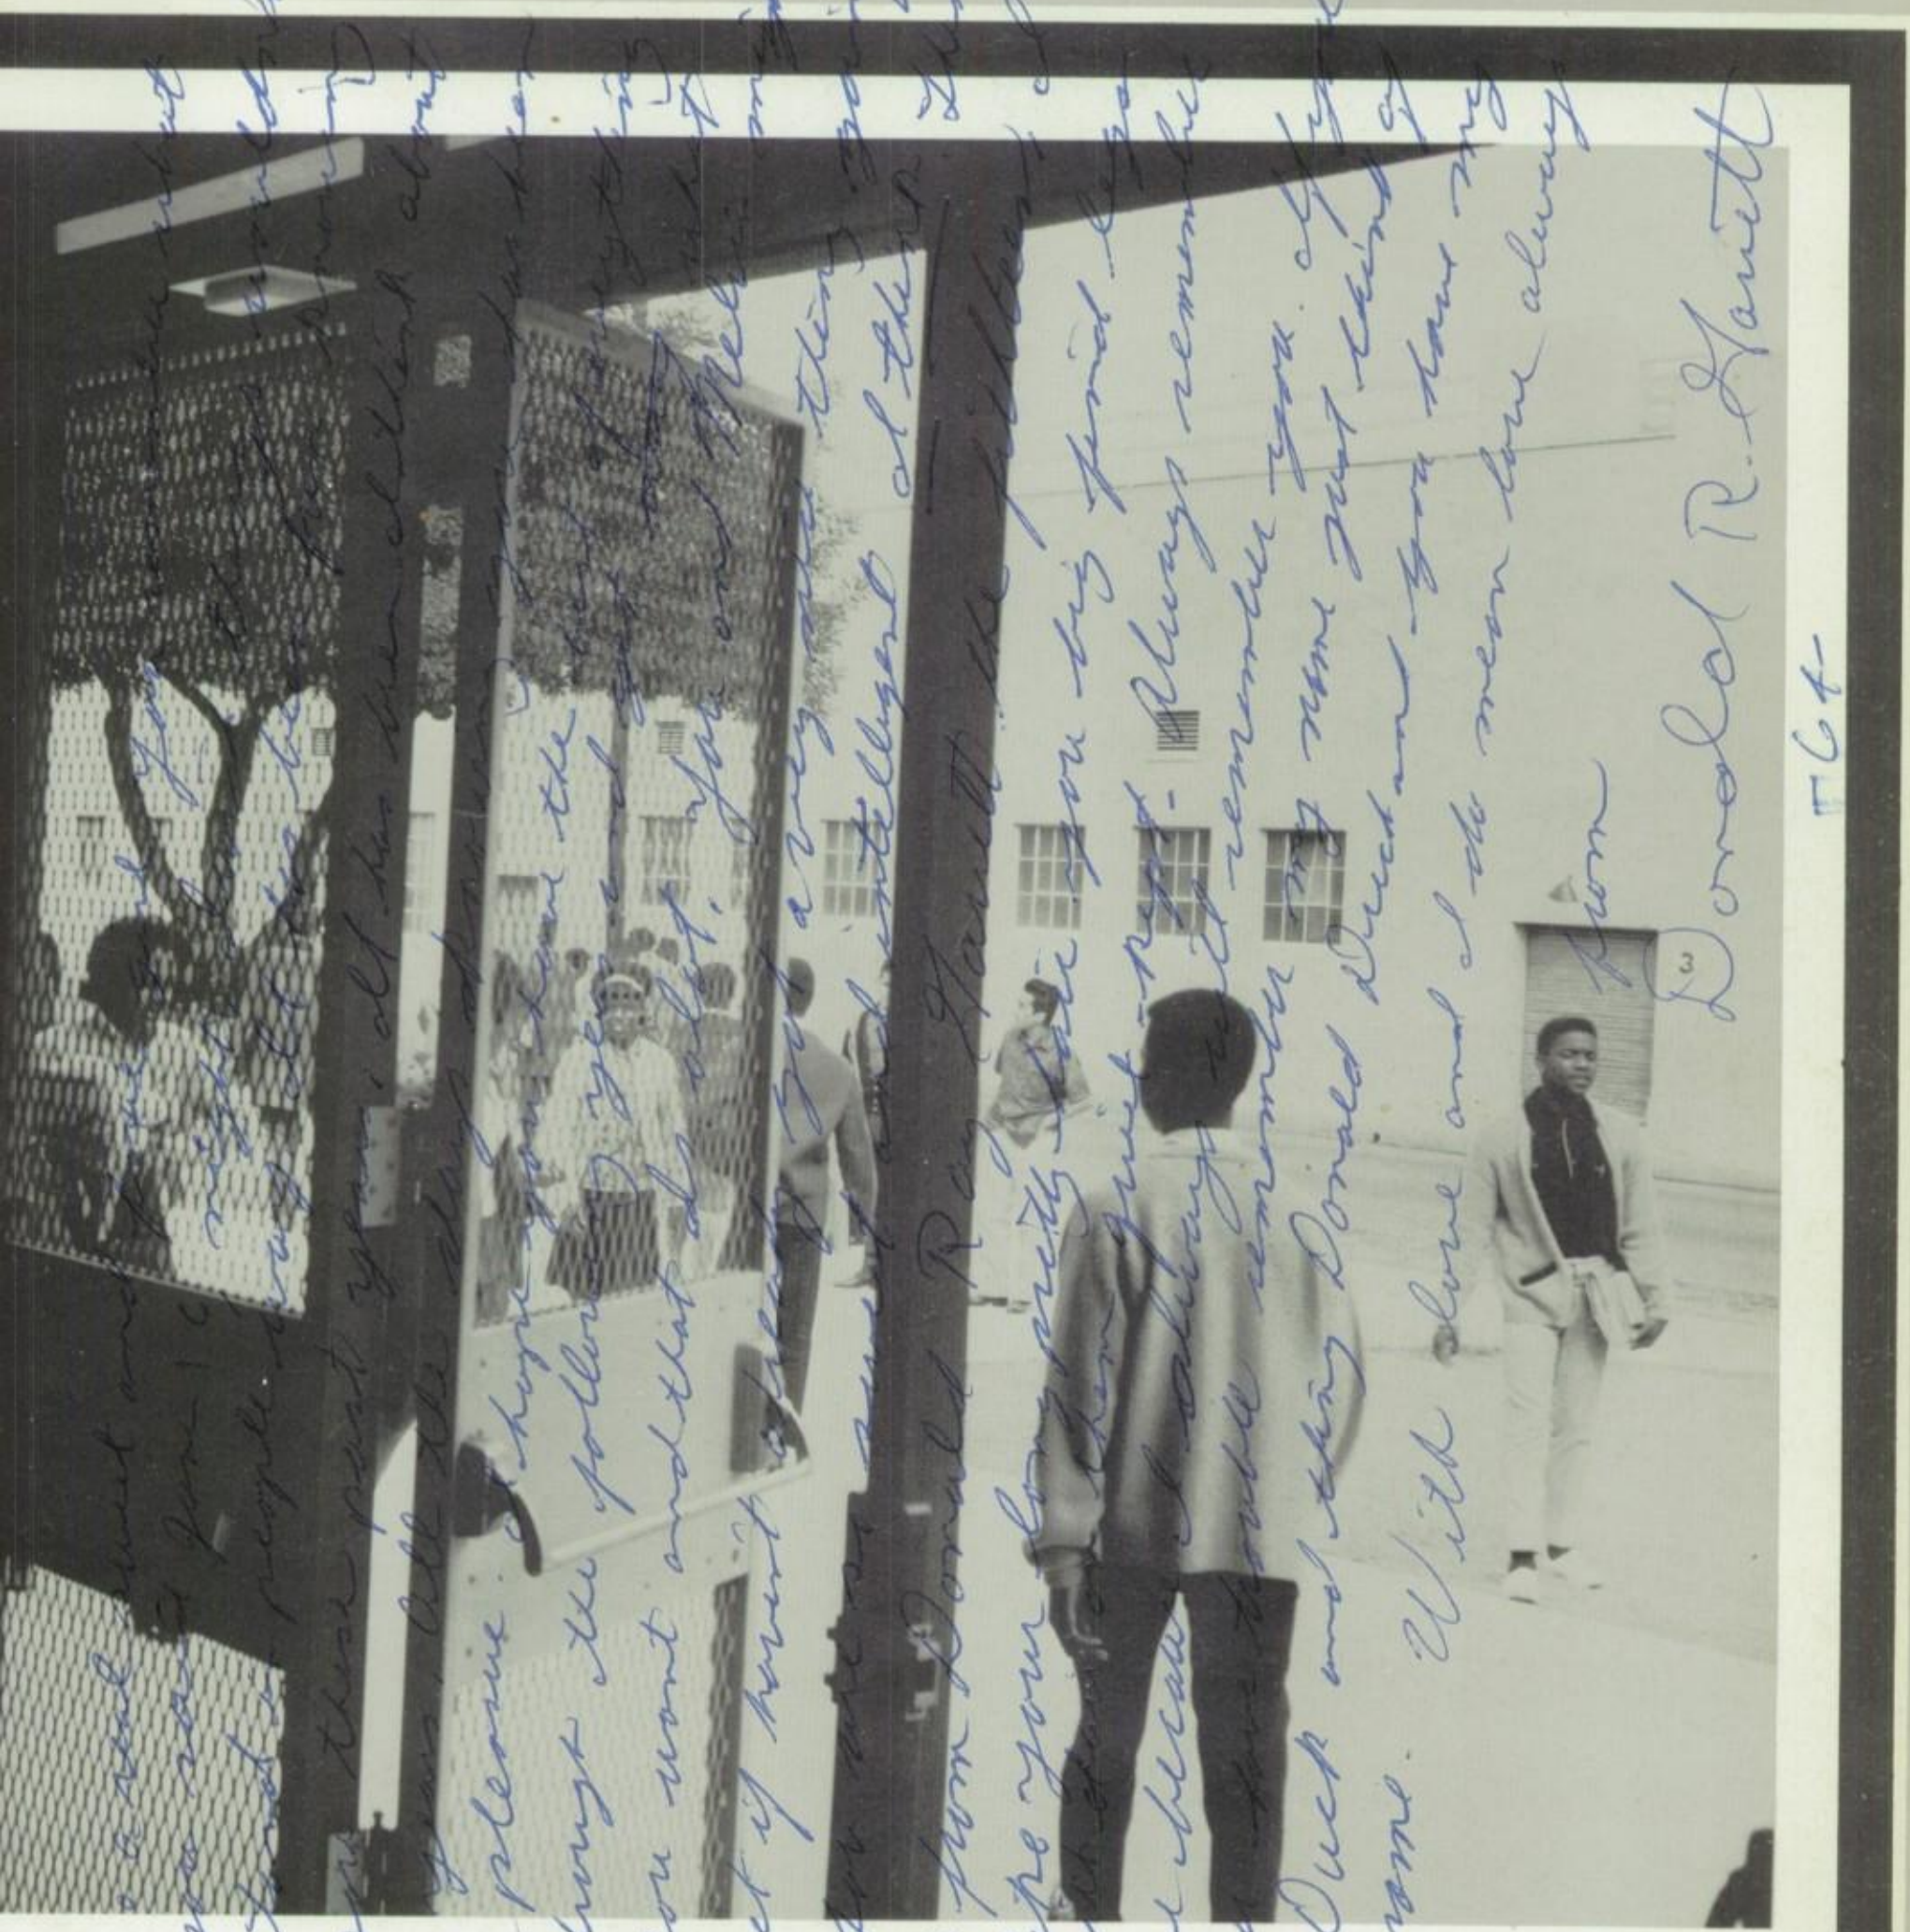
Without an activity section a yearbook would be incomplete. It includes a record of classroom and club functions as well as of student participation at school events.

Compton Senior High School has grown from a small academic school into a comprehensive high school and is considered to be one of the most fully equipped in the county.

By 1907 eighty - seven seniors had graduated from Compton High. The total enrollment in that year was 125 with a teaching staff of eight. As the number of students increased, it became necessary to enlarge the school and expand the curriculum.

College preparatory, commercial, homemaking, industrial arts, fine arts and manual training courses were added in 1909.

One of the newest buildings at Compton High School is the gymnasium located on Oleander Street. It has been a favorite spot for numerous activities since its construction. This is the place where the 1964 El Companile is issued during the last week of school.



ACTIVITIES

Acting with the mascot at the Saint Anthony football game were the Compton Pep units.

Compton Tarbabe, portrayed by Harold Carr, was a delight to students and alumni.

Ever since 1953 when Compton High School separated from the Junior College, the students have been called "Tarbabes." This year, 1963-1964, for the first time in our history we have an actual, live character, Harold Carr, portraying the part of our mascot, the "Tarbabe." The Tarbabe (a baby Tartar or Mongolian warrior) appeared at all of the football games of the season. Standing as a human symbol, many people finally conceived the true meaning of Tarbabe from the appearances of our mascot. Harold Carr, a junior, was chosen to portray the mascot because of his height. A symbol of our school, the mascot helped to create spirit.

MIGHTY "TARBABES"

Twirling their batons with poise, grace and precision were majorettes Judy Green, Jackie Evans and Bobbie Wiggins.

HIGH-STEPPING COMPTONETTES

This year the Compton Drill Team, known as the Comptonettes, led by captain, Charlotte Reels, and co-captain, Bertha Caro, brought recognition and prestige to the school. Sponsored by Miss Elaine Hanks, the 1963-1964 Comptonettes performed with both grace and ease in both the football games and basketball tournaments. The talented girls created spirit throughout the school year, which was seen in their performances. Early in the spring there are tryouts for the drill team. Only the girls that can meet the standards set by the drill team council are able to become a member of the Comptonettes. Charlotte Reel's future plans include attending Washington State College and majoring in dancing in the physical education department. Bertha Caro's future plans include attending Compton Junior College, majoring in mathematics.

COMPTON'S MARCHING BAND

This year, led by drum major, Ronald Pickins, and drum majorette, Patricia Yvarra, the Compton Senior High School marching band went forth with enthusiasm. They brought spirit and pep to the football games and basketball tournaments. Helping to improve the morale of the students, they performed with the drill team and pep units in pep assemblies and parades. Directed this year by Mr. Donald Root, the band had a total number of 45 members, consisting of all three grades.

This year, for the first time in Compton High School history, there is both a drum major and a drum majorette. Ronald Pickins plans to attend the University of Southern California at Santa Barbara, majoring in business administration. Patricia Yvarra's future plans include attending Compton Junior College, majoring in nursing.

Leading the 1963-1964 pep squads were the spirited songs and flags. By carrying blue and white pom-poms and wearing blue uniforms with swirling white swords, the five peppy song girls brought forth fun and excitement wherever they performed. Dancing and prancing with the band and drill team at all football games, the five flag twirlers urged spirit and co-operation from the rooters. These pep squads helped in promoting good sportsmanship.

COMPTON'S SPIRITED PEP

Sporting furry white cossack boots and carrying white flags, posing in front of Compton High's administration building (clockwise) were the five girls serving as flag twirlers: Carmelita Fitzgerald, Pam Fountain, Saraster Madison, Cassandra Harris and Nancy Padron.

Cheering the Tarbabes on to victory at both football and basketball games were the six lively spirit-rousers pictured to the right. This active group of cheerleaders impressed upon the Compton Tarbabe rooters that it is not only the game that counts but also the sportsmanlike manner in which the opposing school conducts themselves both at home and away. This year for the first time in Compton High's history, there was a "Yell Queen." Queen Diane Allen, wearing the blue and white uniform characteristic of the yell leaders, was under the watchful eye of every loyal Tarbabe. Because of the hard work, spirit and drive the Compton "Yells" helped keep Compton the "School of Champions."

TEAMS

Sporting colorful uniforms and urging spirit into the Compton Tarbabes were yell leaders (clockwise): Carol Murdock, Yell Queen Diane Allen, Patricia Graham, and Sandra Barber.

Three of Compton's yell leaders carried the C.H.S. banner that led the Compton High band and drill team in the annual Compton Christmas Parade.

Among the many yells led by the yell leaders were, "Blue White" and "Yamma Yamma."

Shown in the Compton Christmas Parade were the flag girls—Cassandra Harris, Joyce Wynn, Saraster Madison, Pamela Fountain and Nancy Padron, performing to music of the Compton High School band.

Marching in the Christmas Parade were majorettes—Bobbie Wiggins, Jackie Evans and Judy Green.

PRECISION ON PARADE

Drum Major Ronald Pickins and Drum Majorette Patricia Yvarra planned many parades for the drill team and band. They led the Compton High Band in the Christmas Parade.

Among the many firsts at Compton during the year 1963-1964, was the organizing of the Adult Booster Club. Composed of parents and alumni, the Adult Booster Club was led by Mr. Frederick Lowe. They helped sponsor many dances and buses to the games.

Going up for an easy shot for Compton against the Dominquez Dons was Harvey Dillon. This game against Dominquez was Compton's first defeat in the Coast League season. The team was aiming at C.I.F. again this year.

COMPTON HIGH PEP GROUPS

Running and fighting hard for a Compton High victory against Santiago was junior, Denny Smith. This was the first game of the season for Compton and it came out victorious to the delight of the fans.

Yelling with excitement over a touchdown made by Compton's football team, the Compton High School Pep Club cheered frantically. Organized early this year by Yell Queen Diane Allen, the Pep Club enjoyed many scheduled pep assemblies and rallies. Having a Coast League score of 3-2, the Compton Pep Club did a lot for keeping up team morale.

HAIL THE QUEEN!

Homecoming is an important annual event that continues for many weeks. Starting with the nomination of the queen candidates, the celebration lasts until the exciting climax when the queen is crowned during half-time at the Homecoming football game. This year the game was with Lynwood. Queen candidates are nominated by the varsity football team. Then, later they are voted on by the entire student body. Among the many Compton High Homecoming traditions, is the parading of the Queen and her princesses in the latest model convertibles. They are chauffeured around the track, so that all may view the royal court. This year the traditional Homecoming dance was sponsored by the Compton High Adult Booster Club. Shown to the left are Mrs. Jack Hale and Mrs. Harold Carr, booster members, collecting tickets from Edward McFall and his date, Toni Gresham.

Coming into the Homecoming dance were Ed McFall and Toni Gresham.

Royalty decided to take a chance on the dance floor.

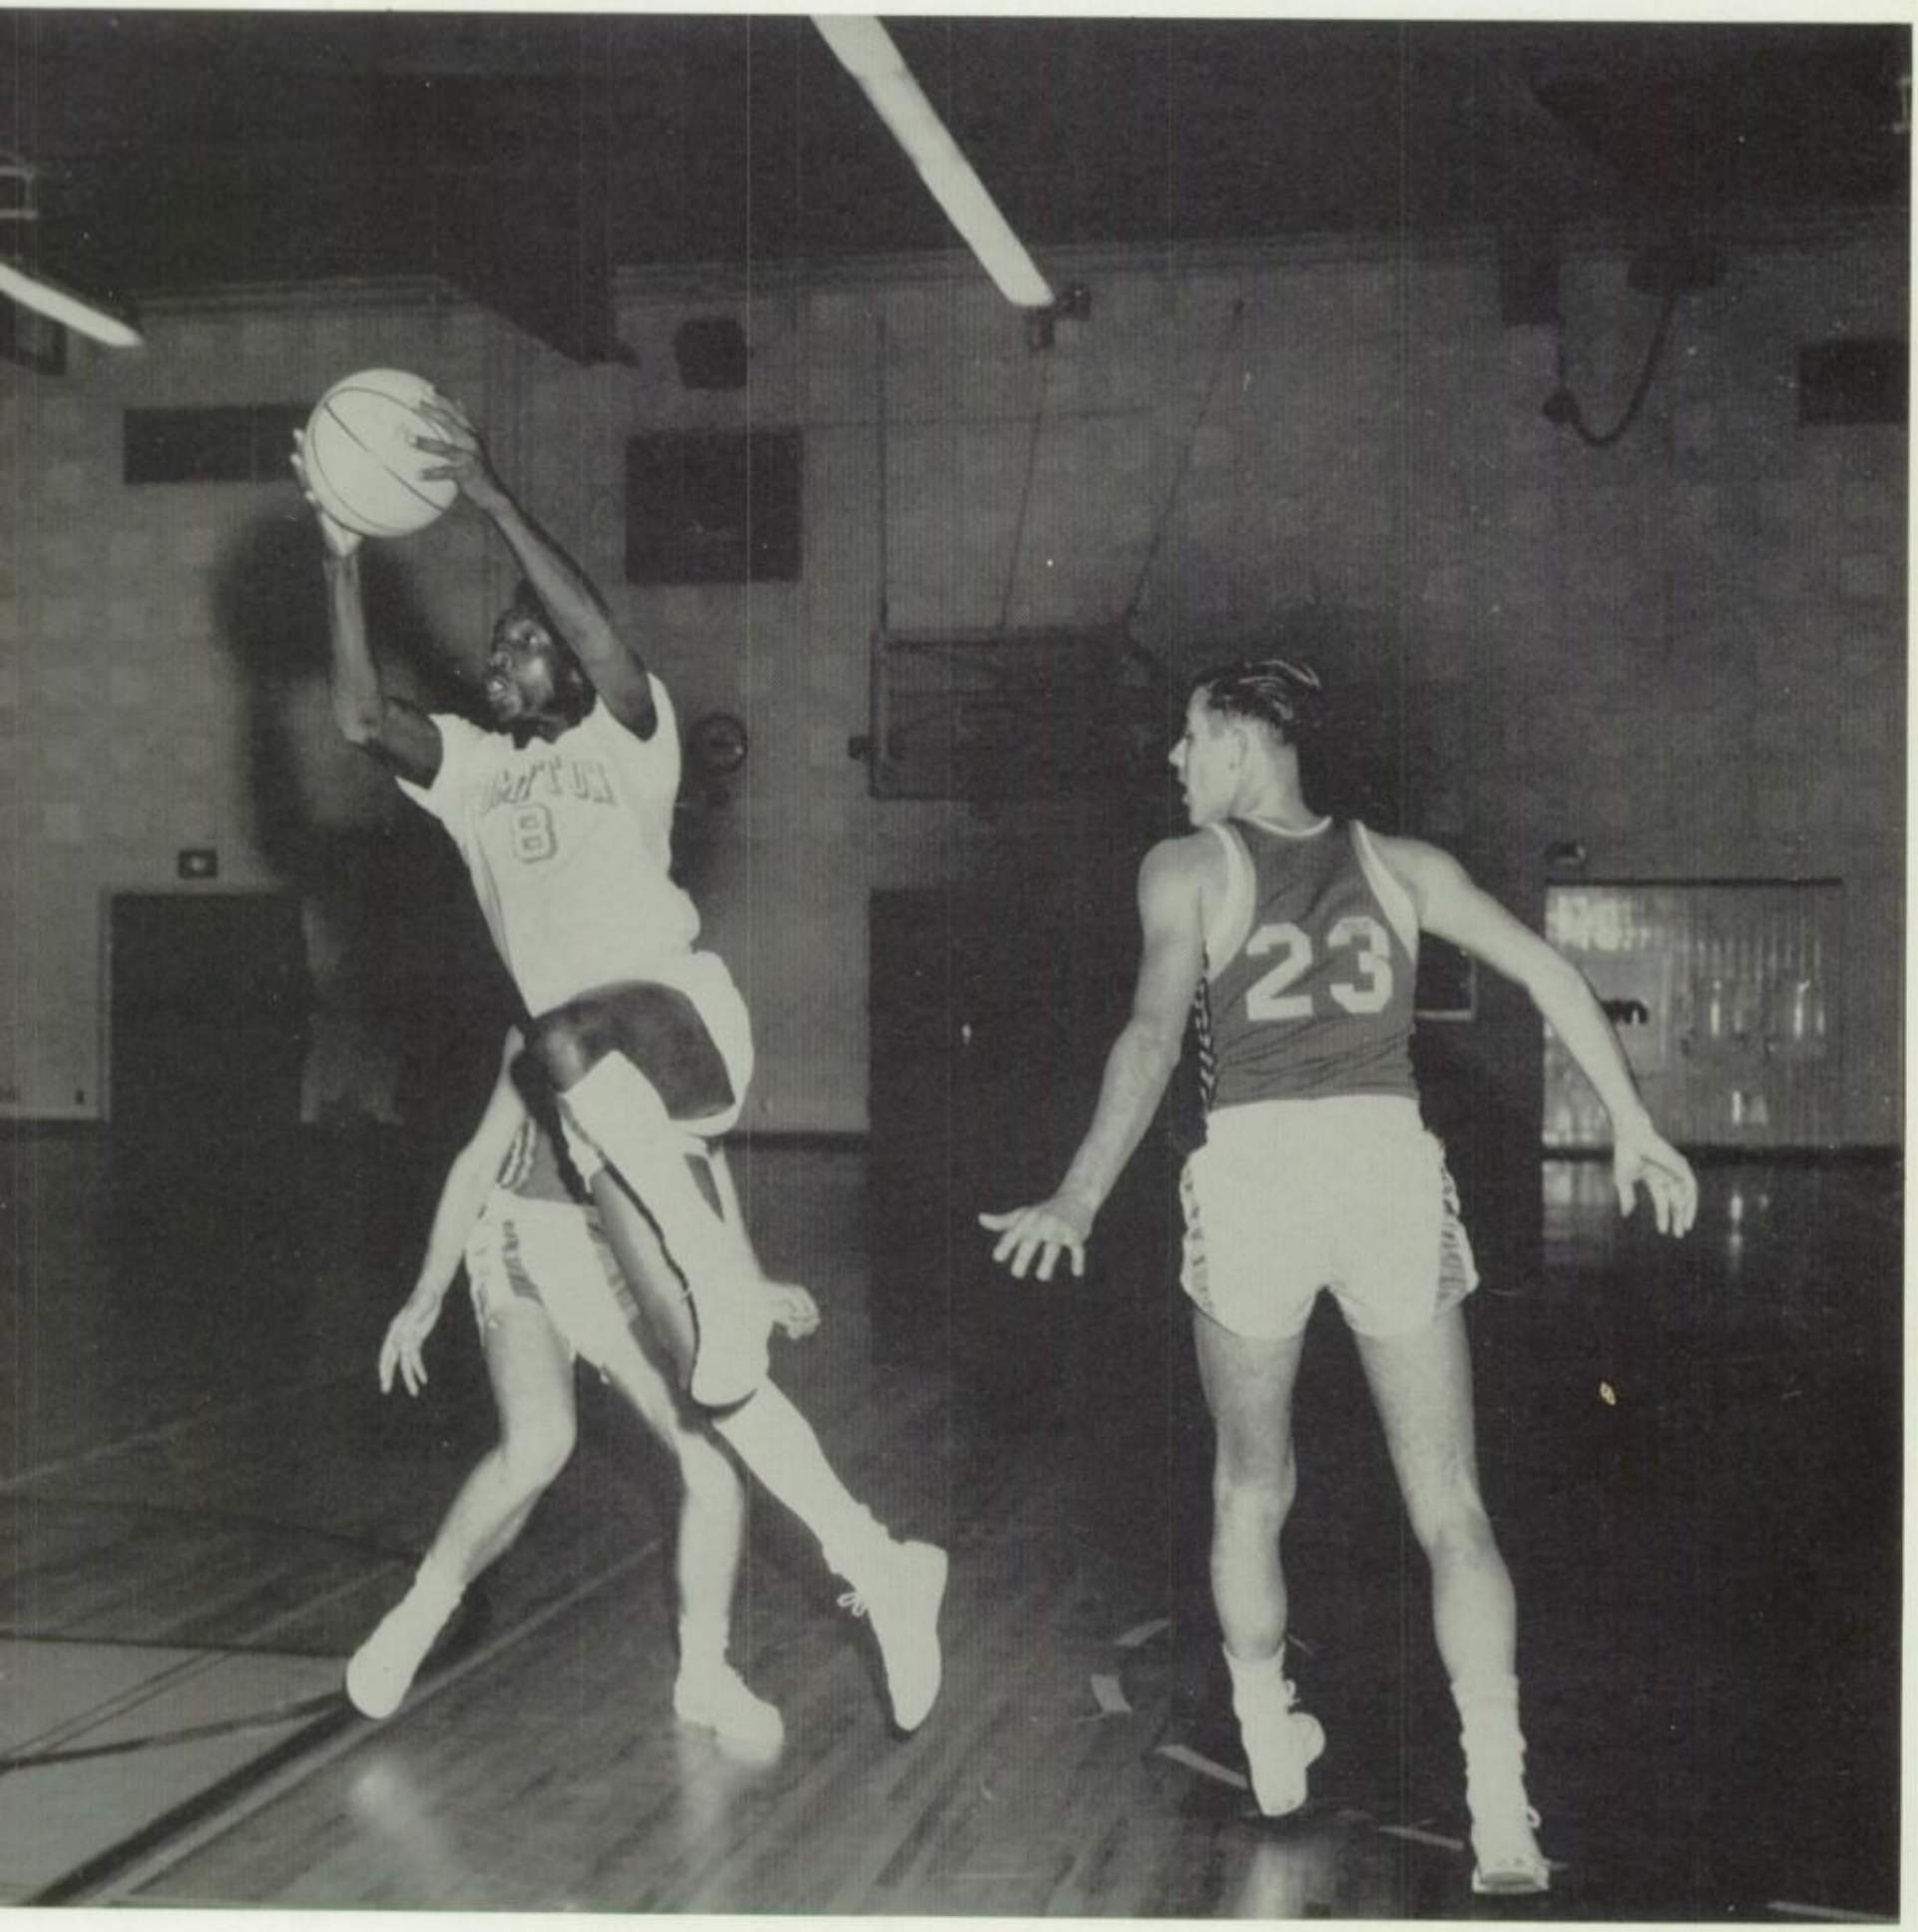
The Compton Varsity Basketball Team in 1929, won seven games and suffered only one defeat. Raymond "Tay" Brown, above, brother of Howard Brown, assistant principal at Compton High, was a member of the championship basketball team in 1929. He attended U.S.C. and later taught physical education at Compton Junior College, where he is presently athletic director.

In 1905 the game of basketball was first introduced at Compton High School. This sport interested both boys and girls. In the early part of 1905 the County Athletic Association formed a basketball league; eight high schools applied immediately for admission and were allowed to compete for the Los Angeles County Basketball pennant. We placed third in this league.

As the years went by, our team rapidly improved to become one of the best in the state. The Compton Tarbabes' basketball team has been known as C.I.F. champions many times in the past. Every year, our basketball teams bring honors to Compton High. The 1964 varsity team were Glendora Tournament and Coast League Champions, and were highly rated to regain the C.I.F. crown they won last year. The Tarbabes were led by such talented and outstanding players as co-captain Harvey Dillon. Harvey is shown, on right, ready to make an easy two points against Lynwood leaving the score 57 to 31 in our victory. Congratulations, Varsity team!



SPORTS

TARBABE GRIDSTERS

Coach Bob McCutcheon, the head coach of the varsity football team, coached his first year at Compton High School. He previously taught and coached at Needles High School, where he accumulated an impressive record in football, with one C.I.F. title in the small school division. Assisting him was backfield coach, Ernell Durden, who was also new to the school. Despite all out efforts, the Compton gridders had a few bad breaks, which could have meant victory for the Tarbabes if they were not committed. They tallied three wins and two losses in league play giving them a third place in the Coast League. This sport produced through the season character, pride, good sportsmanship, and ambition for those of the School of Champions. For their outstanding performances, three were named to the All-Coast League team: first team—end, Ronald Kennedy; halfback, Harvey Dillion; and quarterback, Pat Jones. According to Coach McCutcheon, these and other boys worked hard for a successful 1963 season.

(action picture) The Lion varsity (now Tarbabes) of Compton in 1929 showed power and touchdowns in their 28 to 0 defeat over Santa Monica in the Bay League (now Coast League).
Compton Now: The Compton varsity football team in 1963 was considered a great threat in gridiron competition. With players leaving, the success of the future will ever be in doubt.
The Tarbabe varsity displayed speed, fine receiving, and drive to prove its strength in the league.

Coach Bill Armstrong's defending C.I.F. basketball champions exhibited a great will to win throughout the season. Although they were off to a slow start in pre-season competition, the cagers later gained their momentum to complete a rewarding record of seventeen wins and five losses. During the pre-season they won the Glendora Tournament championship and broke a school record of scoring points by defeating Big Bear, 120-36. As Coast League Champs, the Compton hoopsters in their greatest effort defeated Warren, Centennial, Paramount, and Lynwood each twice and split games with Dominguez. WRESTLERS WERE DEDICATED

Coach Ernell Durden

This year, the sport of wrestling came into existence at Compton High. Under the capable direction of Mr. Ernell Durden, the wrestling team gained the earnest desire to develop their potential in drills and practice. These boys lacked experience, but they made up for that with hustle, extra effort and a dedication to hard work. Because of this they placed fourth in the Dominguez Tournament, but finished at the bottom in Coast League. Such wrestlers as Sam Morgan and Ray Richardson put forth a tremendous effort making this a creditable first year season.

HORSEHIDERS—THEN AND NOW

Compton Then: The Compton Varsity baseball team of 1905 was a championship team in their league. This team can be characterized by hard hitting, flashy fielding and consistent hustle. Compton Now: The varsity baseball team led by coach Charles Parish experienced a frustrating pre-season. Though starting slow, the boys eventually shaped up into a well-balanced team. In the pre-season practice schedule, the Tarbabe men defeated such teams as Bellflower and Long Beach Jordan but were defeated by Long Beach Poly and Mira Costa. Even though the team had a rugged practice season, Coach Parish's efforts were sure to make us a real contender in the Coast League. This year's team produced many fine players such as, Ron Salter, who was varsity captain, Pat Jones, co-captain, Larry Woods, John Thompson, and others.

CINDERMEN SET NEW RECORDS

For another consecutive year the Compton Track team came out on top in Coast League. Showing outstanding competitive sportsmanship were Charles Davis, Eugene Everage, Devone Smith, and Kenneth Mode, who are just a few of the upcoming champs of Compton Senior High track team. Coach Ernst Hartmann had considered his athletes very hard working, which paid off in a winning season. Highlights of the 1964 season established new school records. Our cindermen defeated Loyola 52½ to 51½,, in a practice meet, and three school records were broken. Kenneth Mode's 6-7½ high jump and Henry Larthridge's 6-4¾ high jump, established a new school record which stood for 36 years. Devone Smith led the varsity team to a record-breaking season by running an outstanding 1:53.0 in the 880. Congratulations, gentlemen! A combination of individual school records and fine performances by the other athletes made the season one of the finest Compton has ever seen.

1:53.0 Half Mile—Devone Smith showed his finishing kick as the nation's best in the 880-yard run by an American schoolboy. Success was his in 1964.

6-Foot, 7½-inch Leap—March 9, 1964, Ken Mode made the nation's best prep high jump of the year. He also broke the school record of 6-4 which lasted for 36 years.

Compton Now: 1964 was a year of broken records. Kenneth Mode broke the school record with an amazing leap of 6-7 ½. Pictured above are Coach Edward Adams and Kenneth Mode watching as the height of the jump was revealed by an official.

6-Foot, 4 ¾-inch Leap—Henry Larthridge's jump of 6-4 ¾, bettered the school record of 6-4. This was a great effort.

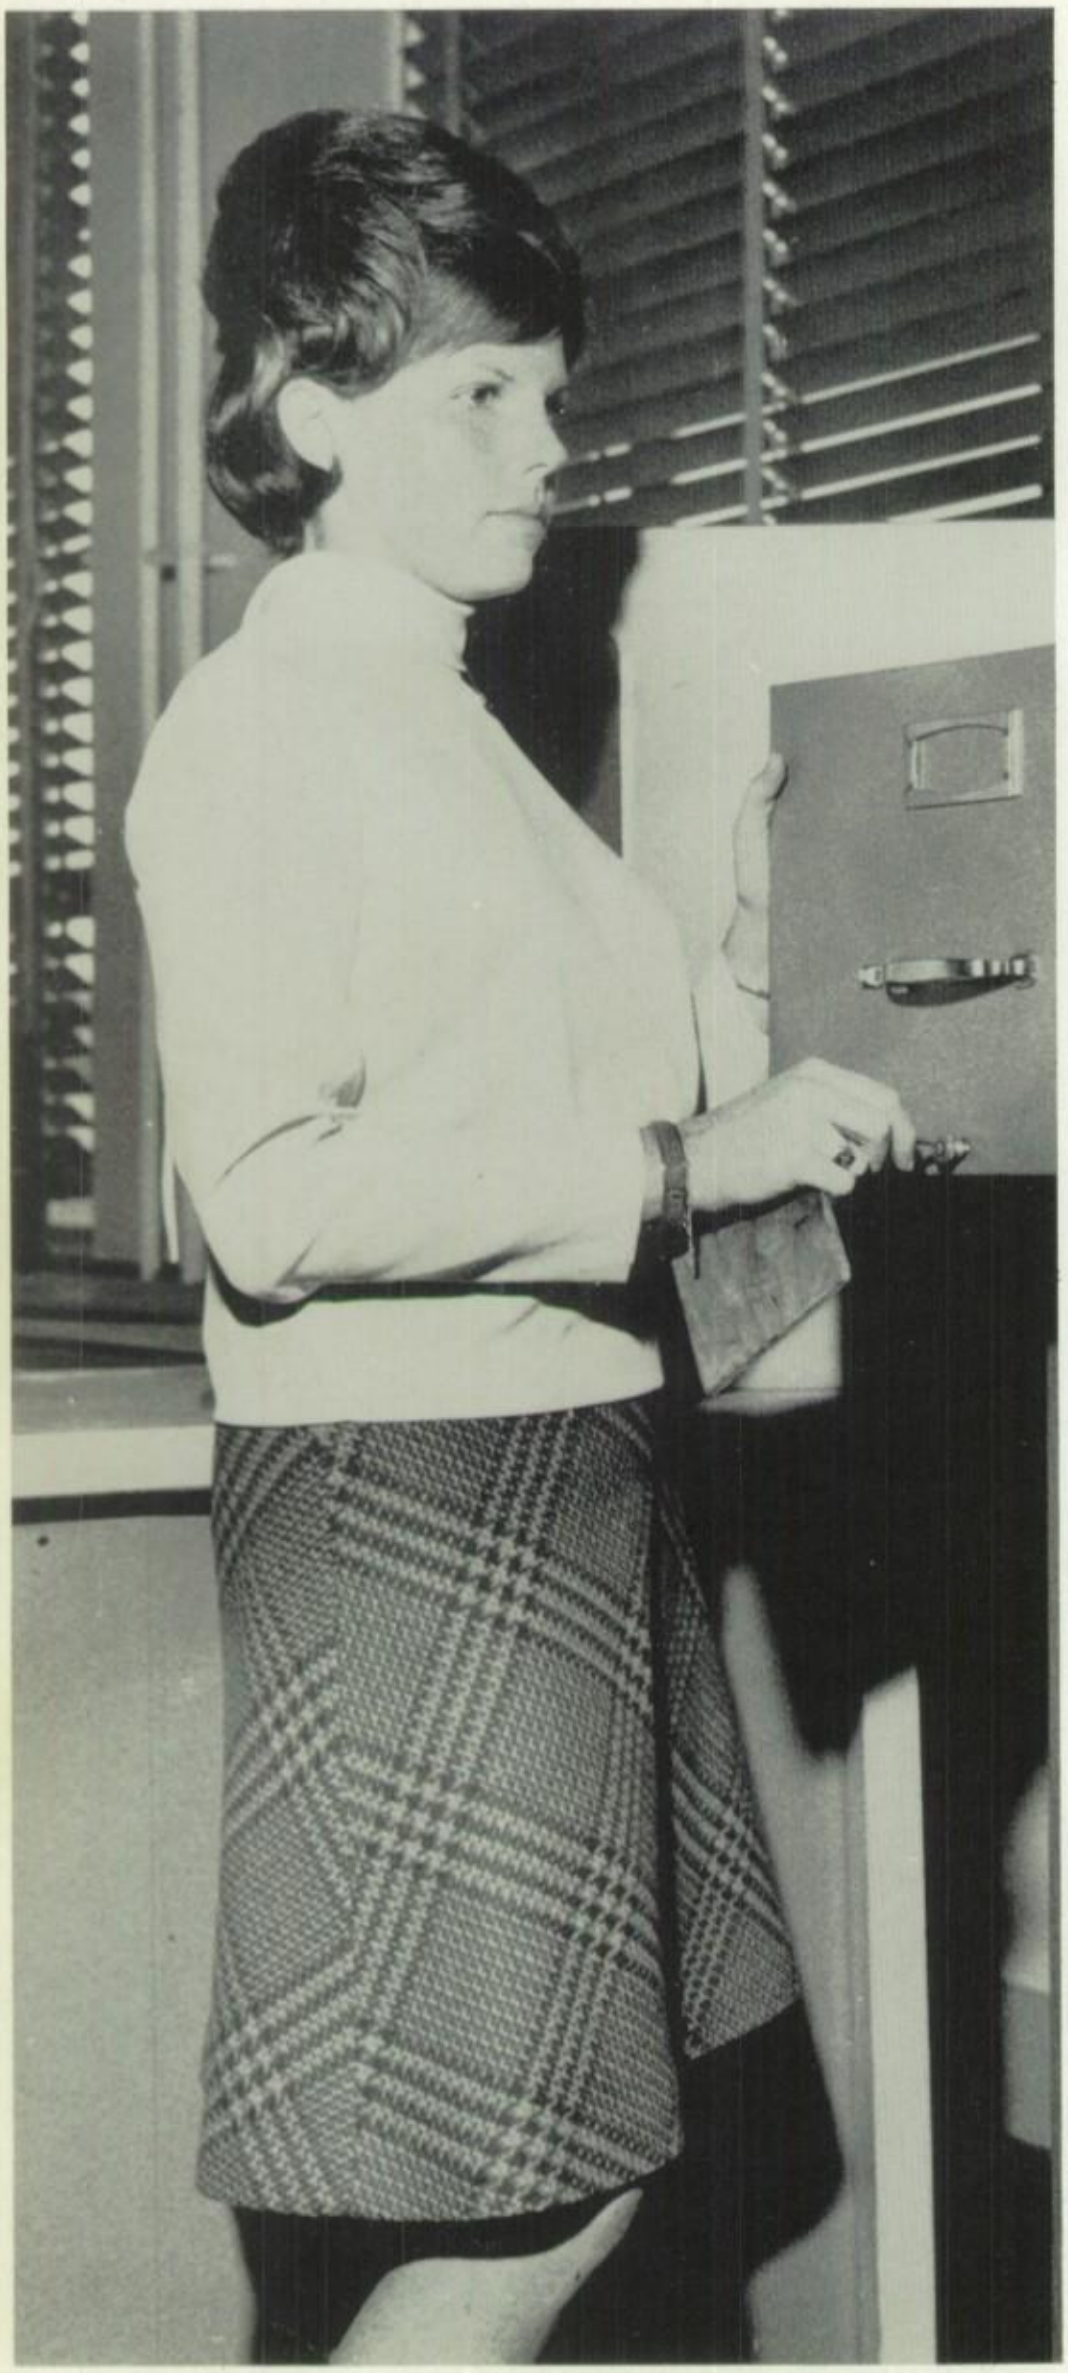
TAYLOR PUBLISHING COMPANY
"The World's Best Yearbooks Are Taylor-made"



FAREWELL . . .

In this year's edition of El Companile, we have attempted to show the student body and the community some of the history of "Compton — Then and Now."

The opportunity to edit El Companile was truly an experience I will never forget.

The facts and the old pictures reproduced, which are used in this book, were found in yearbooks from Compton High dating back to 1903. These old annuals are the possessions, mainly, of Mr. Howard Brown, our assistant principal. We are grateful to Mr. Brown for loaning us his treasured collection.

It has been my goal and also the wish of every staff member that these events "Then and Now" will remain a part of your memories as a member of the student body of Compton High School.

I would like, now, to thank the school for making this publication possible and to thank the administration for their co-operation and help. Also, without the help and many long hours of hard work given by my staff, the 1964 El Companile would not have come into existence. I hope they will accept my words of appreciation and deepest thanks.

It has been a privilege to have worked under the excellent guidance of our adviser, Mrs. Delight Hoffmann. She has helped the past year go by successfully.

I cannot find enough words to thank Bob Weygand and Anibal Vaca, our good-natured, talented, and hard working photographers. Their ability to take fine pictures and their unending patience has helped us tremendously.

Our special thanks goes to Mr. Walter Hubbell of the Taylor Publishing Company for his professional advice and assistance and to the S. K. Smith Company for our beautiful cover.

Another year has quickly vanished and Volume 11 of El Companile has been completed. We hope you are pleased with its presentation.

As I lock my file for the last time, into my heart I lock a most unforgettable experience as Editor-in-Chief of El Companile.

Sincerely,

Mary Nielsen

Editor-in-chief
